Thousands Honor Kamehameha the Great in Picturesque Parade Today and Pageant Tonight

Members of Sons and Daughters of Warriors are shown above, surrounding Kamehameha's statue, while leis strew the ground and the "Tabu Twin" hold their kahilis. The group is called the "Circle of Love."

This striking group is that of Hui Hale o na Alii o Hawaii, escorting the legendary war god, Kukulimoku, facing the statue of Kamehameha, one of the most notable groups of the procession.

HAWAII BOURBONS AT ST. LOUIS AND BEGINNING FIGHT

Jarrett Lodges Protest Against "Johnny" Wilson as National Committeeman; President's Supporters Frame Platform

(Associated Press by Federal Wireline)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 12.—Claims of Raymond contesting election of Keohokale overruled.
The contest of W. P. Jarrett against John H. Wilson, national committeeman, has been referred to the new national committee. Wilson will continue to serve until the committee is organized.
The Raymond contest was referred to National Committeeman Taggart. Arthur Mullen of Nebraska and Talbot of Maryland, who soon settled it. Former U. S. Ambassador Morganthau is here working in the interests of Newton D. Baker, secretary of war, for the vice-presidential nomination. Major of Missouri and Morehead of Nebraska are also candidates.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 12.—Hawaii's delegation and contesting persons are on the ground here and the big fight over the national citizenship and one delegate has begun.

William P. Jarrett is contesting the re-election of John H. Wilson as national committeeman, claiming an unfair count of votes by the party machinery in favor of Wilson. A protest has also been made against the seating of one member of the Hawaii delegation.

(This is the protest lodged by Dr. J. H. Raymond of Maui against the election of Morris Keohokale, as the Maui member of Hawaii's delegation of six.)

Vice-chairman Homer Cummings of the Democratic national committee will probably succeed Chairman William F. McCombs, who has notified the party leaders that he will resign after the convention. Cummings is from Connecticut.

The program for the national convention is pretty well mapped out and as there is but one candidate each for the presidential and vice-presidential nominations, the convention is expected to be a very quiet one. On Wednesday the convention will organize and the "key-note" speech will be delivered.

Thursday will be given over to addresses, it is expected, and in general to the promulgation of party doctrine. On Friday morning the platform is to be discussed and adopted and on Friday night the ticket to be named.

One important plank, it is certain, will be upon the question of foreign relations. This plank will be a declaration that the president's foreign policy has been correct, that unprecedented conditions have arisen due to the war, that the president

Ground Often Fought Over Again Traversed By Tenuous Armies of Czar; Berlin Says They are Repulsed

(Associated Press by Federal Wireline)
PETROGRAD, Russia, June 12.—Continuing their drive against the southeastern part of the eastern line, in that portion of Galicia already fought over three separate times since the war began, the Russians are now approaching the outskirts of Czernowitz. Thirty miles to the north another large force is attacking the bridgehead at the town of Zaleskiy. The Austrians are holding the bridge and the town.

RUSSIAN OFFENSIVE AT BUCACZ HAS BEEN STOPPED, SAYS BERLIN

(Associated Press by Federal Wireline)
BERLIN, Germany, June 12.—North-east of Bucacz, Galicia, the Russians attempted an advance, but were repulsed and the German troops took 1800 prisoners.

On the western front today it is comparatively quiet. The artillery duels, however, are in progress.

WESTERN FRONT TODAY QUIETER; ARTILLERY BOMBARDS INCESSANT

(Associated Press by Federal Wireline)
PARIS, France, June 12.—Attacks by the Germans today west of the fort of Vaux were repulsed. At Chantecourt the artillery is active and there is also a heavy bombardment in progress at Souville and Travannes.

MINES AND TORPEDOES CONTINUE TO DESTROY NEUTRALS IN WAR-ZONE

YMUUDEN, Holland, June 12.—The Norwegian steamer Bur has been sunk, either by a mine or torpedo.

LONDON, Eng., June 12.—The Norwegian steamer Prosper III has been sunk by a mine. So far as is known no one but a mate survived.

The Swedish steamer Para has been sunk by a mine.

has kept the country from the horrors of strife and has simultaneously maintained a "strictly honest" neutrality.

Carrie Chapman Catt, representing the National Suffrage Association, is here in the interest of a suffrage plank in the platform. She is insisting upon a declaration by the leaders in favor of suffrage as one integral part of the Democratic platform.

CONQUEROR'S MEMORY IS REVIVED; HISTORIC PAST OF ISLANDS BROUGHT INTO NEW LIFE

Parade and Stately Pageantry do Reverence to Hawaii's Napoleon; Spectators Line Streets as Procession Passes

Across the broad stretch of Time's changing years came today the spirit of Old Hawaii and for a few brief hours modern Honolulu turned gay with music and brilliant with bright colors, forgot the cares of the present and lived in fancy or memory the days that are no more.

Hawaii of old—pushed from its own by the onward sweep of civilization—returned today in the colors of old-time, while old Hawaiians and their children and grandchildren turned out to do honor to the memory of their great man, Kamehameha.

As one stood at the wide square before the Judiciary building and watched the long parade with its various organizations sweep into place—the marching men and women, many of them gray with age, but bearing proudly the badges of their orders; the young boys and girls, representatives of a new generation; the pa-u riders with their long skirts of yellow, of purple or green, and their rapes of black—it seemed for the time that the present had become the past and that the great bronze statue of Kamehameha which stands in the square was a statue no more, but a great chief who spread his arms above his people.

All Hawaii turned out. No fairer scene could one desire. The trees of royal palm, swept by the cool trade winds, clouds or white against a background of blue, and the warm Hawaiian sunlight filtering through the rain-washed air, gave all that could be asked.

All Hawaii turned out to do honor to the day. Not only in the crowd that marched from Ania Park to the Judiciary grounds, but also in the crowd that lined the street on both sides, the halokou or the feather or paper lei was ever present.

"Aloha" and "Aloha nui oe" one heard here and there as he passed—the word of greeting from old friends. Aged Hawaiian men and women, embracing or shaking hands, talked over the days of old as they watched the colorful parade go by.

Boys and girls met and exchanged greetings bashfully, and little children, suffering the tortures of strange shoes, clung to their parents with one hand and feasted on candy or ice cream cones with the other.

Many of the Hawaiian families from the outer districts brought their lunches and later in the day joined in impromptu games, where the morsel of fish and pork and the calabash of poi were not lacking.

Parade Starts Promptly
The parade, starting promptly on time and passing down King street in good order, made a fine appearance. A cool breeze and a frequently clouded sun saved much hardship in the march.

It was 8:30 o'clock that the Hawaiian Band, under the leadership of Peter Kalani, and preceded by the grand marshal of the day, Capt. Robert Waipa Parker, his aides and a squad from the Honolulu police department, swung into a lively Hawaiian air and began the march.

Back of the band came the Boy Scouts dressed in the khaki colored suits, wearing the colored kerchiefs of their order and bearing their staves of bamboo.

Behind the Boy Scouts came the delegates of the other islands—folk

WICKERSHAM AND HUGHES CONFER AND JUSTICE'S HEADQUARTERS ARE OPENED

"No Expectation of Seeing Roosevelt Run," Former Attorney-General Declares—George von L. Meyer, Colonel's Man, Boosting for Republican Nominee

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireline)
NEW YORK, June 12.—From prominent supporters of Charles E. Hughes comes the declaration today that they do not expect to see Colonel Roosevelt in the race—that he will make final his "conditional refusal" of the Progressive nomination last Saturday.

Mr. Hughes arrived from Washington early today and was met by a small group of influential men who have been supporting his candidacy even before his own intentions were known. Chief among them was George W. Wickersham, attorney-general in the Taft cabinet.

After Mr. Hughes arrived he was closeted with Mr. Wickersham in a conference which lasted for half an hour, but after the conference Wickersham said that it was not about politics.

Though professing that the campaign and the situation arising from the Chicago developments were not talked over, Mr. Wickersham was willing to predict that the Republican party would not be divided on candidates.

"I have no expectation of seeing Mr. Roosevelt in the race," he said. "I think the Progressives will support Mr. Hughes and that he can command the millions of votes which went for Mr. Roosevelt in 1912. I do not believe that Roosevelt will head a third ticket."

Public Service Commissioner Whitney during the day announced that the "Hughes Alliance" made up of New York supporters of Hughes in previous campaigns, will be revived. The Hughes campaign headquarters have already been opened at the Hotel Astor.

George von L. Meyer For Hughes Now

CHICAGO, Ill., June 12.—George von L. Meyer declared today his approval of the Hughes acceptance of the nomination. "He will be elected," he predicted.

Mr. Meyer was secretary of the navy under Taft. In April he visited Roosevelt at Sagamore Hill and after a conference came out unreservedly for the Colonel. Since then he has been one of Roosevelt's strongest supporters.

NEW JAPANESE BANK WILL BE OPENED, RUMOR

A new Japanese bank, backed by millions of capital, is shortly to be established in Honolulu, according to letters to Japanese business men from the Orient within the past few days.

A few weeks ago the Sumitomo banking corporation of Osaka, which is one of the biggest banking houses in the empire, sent a representative to Honolulu to look into the prospects for a branch here, devoted particularly to Japanese but drawing other patronage as well. This representative denied, when questioned, that his house was to establish a branch here, but private advices from Osaka exporters to customers here say that the branch had been opened within a short time, and that M. Kawakatsu, one of the bank's most influential active officials, has been named managing director of the Honolulu branch.

Trouble with his wife is given at the police station as the cause. The Intich printed a revolver at his wife, the police say, and when bystanders jumped upon him tried to shoot him self by putting the pistol in his mouth. T. Keven managed to pull the gun away from McIntosh's head just as it was fired. McIntosh will probably have a hearing in police court tomorrow morning.

Roosevelt Declines To Discuss Program

(Associated Press by Federal Wireline)
NEW YORK, N. Y., June 12.—Callers at the Roosevelt home at Oyster Bay yesterday found the colonel absolutely declining to discuss the situation. To all the inquiries, from newspaper men and others that reached him, he had only the answer that he was "out of politics" and would not talk politics.

"It is of no use for you to ask me questions," said the colonel. "I will say nothing and answer no questions."

If the colonel has any other plans for the coming months than a continuation of his literary work, they have not been announced, but it is expected that he will make some sort of a political statement before the campaign progresses much further.

It is generally thought that with other Progressives he is waiting to see what is the stand taken by Hughes on the issues raised in the Progressive platform, before determining whether there shall be a three-cornered fight or not. In the meantime the Hughes campaign is on in earnest, while that of the Progressives is in abeyance.

Arnold and Harold McIntosh of Waukegan, O., twins, who married twins and no doubt slept in twin beds, are now suing for twin divorces on the grounds of twin desertions.

ANTI-AMERICAN RAPS IN MEXICO

(Associated Press by Federal Wireline)
LAREDO, Texas, June 12.—Three Mexican raiders, who attacked the Coleman ranch at San Samuel, and six others captured, either by Texas rangers or U. S. troops, according to news here late this afternoon.

CHIHUAHUA CITY, Chihuahua, June 12.—An anti-American meeting here today was accompanied by disorders in various parts of the city. A parade was held and shouts of "Throw out the Americans!" were frequent.

EL PASO, Tex., June 12.—Reports today indicate that there were anti-American meetings in several cities of Chihuahua and that incendiary literature is being distributed.

STITCHES NEEDED AFTER ASYLUM ROAD ACCIDENT

S. Fukuda came to the emergency hospital today covered with blood and badly bruised about the face and head. He is an employee of George Holt and could speak very little English but seems to have become mixed up with a vehicle on Asylum road. Several stitches were taken in the cuts.

The Australian commonwealth has the sweetest tooth of all the countries in the world, its annual per capita consumption of sugar being 109 pounds.

VIGILANCE OF OFFICERS KEEPS BETTORS QUIET

The Order of the Betless Bettors is the title which has been applied by the Honolulu police to a gang of about 25 would-be gamblers who have been apparently unable to chance their money on the flying ponies in Kapiolani park.

Hopes of getting some big stakes together at last ran high about 10 o'clock last night when the gang met in the moonlight in Kapiolani park. But alas! Deputy Sheriff Asch and Capt. McDuffie were too vigilant. Hardly had arrangements started for today's handicaps before a dozen or more police and detectives surrounded the group.

But if the watch of the officers was timely and their actions sure and quick, preparation of the gang was just as complete. When the officers drew near they found only small groups of men talking, about pineapples and sugar cane. Horses were mentioned only in a casual way. Feeling that their duty had been at least partly done by preventing betting, the police withdrew.

Friday night a similar effort was made by the police to catch the same crowd in about the same place but news of the officers' contemplated visit flew before them and a Sunday school picnic was bolstered compared with the gentlemanly meeting they encountered.

Deputy Asch said at noon today that not a single arrest had been made by his force and Capt. McDuffie said the same.

TRIES SUICIDE AFTER TROUBLE WITH WIFE

Suicide was tried just before noon today by J. A. McIntosh at T. Keven's home on Beretania street, near Nonpareil lane. One shot was fired but no one hurt. McIntosh is in jail.
